OUR FLORA MACDONALD CREED

Remembering that "Jesus increased in wisdom and in stature, and in favor with God and man,"

I shall strive to increase in wisdom. Realizing that my main purpose in coming to college is to grow in academic knowledge, I shall strive to do my scholastic work to the very best of my ability; to do thoroughly and efficiently all of my assignments; to study diligently and to develop a depth of thought which will enable me to make a worthy contribution, not only in my chosen vocational field but also in college and wherever I am needed. Understanding that increasing in wisdom means more than growth in academic knowledge, I shall also strive to take advantage of the many opportunities to increase in wisdom by participation in other phases of college life — chapel services, concerts and lectures, student government, and other extra-curricular activities. I shall strive to use my time wisely so that I may be able to accept other responsibilities and be loyal in my attention to them.

I shall strive to increase in stature; to keep physically sound. Knowing that to maintain good health, it is up to me to live by good health principles, I shall strive to eat a well-balanced diet and to make time in my daily schedule for adequate sleep, rest, relaxation and recreation. I shall strive to take seriously the physical education program provided by the college and the opportunities offered by the Athletic Association to develop good health and good sportsmanship. Realizing that when I am sick I am not only endangering my own good health but also the good health of others, I shall strive to be sensible about any illness or accident I may have and report for medical attention when necessary.

I shall strive to increase in favor with God; to grow spiritually. Realizing that spiritual growth is growth in principle and in practice, I shall strive to increase my faith in God through knowledge and worship, and to express this faith through my daily activities on campus and wherever I am. I shall also strive to participate sincerely and wholeheartedly in the religious activities on our campus in order that my life may be influenced by Christian ideals. I shall strive to live by Christian ideals—private meditation, public worship and service—and to let my religious beliefs penetrate all activities of life.

I shall strive to grow socially; to cultivate friendships with the people around me—faculty, staff, and students—and to understand the true meaning of friends through my associations with them. I shall strive to be thoughtful and helpful towards all people. Knowing that social growth includes the development of social skills, I shall strive to be gracious in manner and to be courteous at all times. I shall also strive to co-operate with other students in upholding honestly and wholeheartedly the ideals and regulations of our college and contribute constructively to its improvement.

I shall strive to do my very best to follow the perfect example—Jesus—and increase intellectually, physically, spiritually, and socially—realizing that in so doing I will bring honor upon myself, my family, and upon the college which contributes so much to my growth—OUR FLORA MACDONALD COLLEGE.

GREETINGS!

So you are coming to college. This is a splendid thing to do. Many young people are longing to take advantage of this opportunity to fit themselves for life, and are not able to do so.

The world today needs well-prepared people. F. M. C. has been notably successful in turning out useful Christian citizens. She is offering this opportunity to you. Be certain to take advantage of it.

We are a happy and helpful "bunch" and are glad you are to be with us. I know we shall enjoy each other, and that you will be one of the happy and helpful ones.

Yours for a great year,

DR. C. G. VARDELL
President Emeritus

My earnest prayer for each student at Flora Macdonald College is that the scholastic year 1957-58 may be a year of real enrichment. You will be confronted with many challenges which necessitate major decisions. God has blessed you with a freedom of will, and this involves the making of choices. By making wise choices you grow in strength of character. Some of the choices you make will be in small things, but these small choices are important too, as they determine the direction and destiny of your life.

In all of your choices, seek the guidance of Almighty God, that by and through your choices you may glorify the name of your Lord and Savior Jesus Christ.

You may come to my office at any time to talk over any matter that may concern you. I shall listen to you and give you my counsel. Even if you have no problem, come in to talk to me, for my greatest joy grows out of my comradeship with the students on this campus. I know of nothing quite as wonderful as the Christian comradeship we enjoy together.

Yours for a good year,

MARSHALL SCOTT WOODSON, President

A Personal Letter from the Dean of the College

Some people have an insatiable thirst for knowledge. To all such college is indeed the promised land. There they discover and appropriate the cultural treasure of the ages. Flora Macdonald offers, first of all, mental stimulation under the guidance of inspiring teachers. Keen minds are the great need of the world today. It is our purpose to whet the intellect and teach students how to think.

But scholastic excellence is not enough. We believe that the heart must be trained as well as the head. You will find at Flora Macdonald a Christian atmosphere that is created by unselfish love. Golden friendships ripen here and endure through all the years. Participate wholeheartedly in our program of work, play and worship, and the rewards that you reap will bring you lasting satisfaction.

May God bless you as you enter upon your academic career at Flora Macdonald College.

Faithfully yours,
PRICE H. GWYNN, JR.

To each of you who is coming to Flora Macdonald College for the first time I extend a cordial welcome. The college lives in its students and in its alumnae, so you are soon to become a fundamental and integral part of it. What you will be, it will be.

From the letters, I believe that you will strive to maintain the traditions of the college and to hold high its ideals and standards, and that you will endeavor in every way to leave it "not less but geater, better and more beautiful" than when it was transmitted to you.

HAZEL MORRISON

Dean of Admissions and Registrar

For seven years I have lived with the students on the campus of Flora Macdonald College. These seven years have been wonderful years of joyous comradeship with a grand lot of young people. As I remember the students in my prayers, I shall also be praying for God's blessing upon the work and influence of the one chosen to serve as the Dean of Students. I know you students will loyally support the new Dean and give her your fullest co-operation. I shall always belong to Flora Macdonald College, as Flora Macdonald College and its students will belong to me. I thank God for all that I have given and received in my years of service to a college which I love with the deep devotion of my heart. May the dear Lord help all of you to "grow in wisdom and in stature and in favor with God and man."

Yours in love,

(SADIE MCB. MCCAIN)

PLEDGE

In becoming a member of the Student Association of Flora Macdonald College, I promise that I will respect and uphold the regulations of the Association and by my life and influence strive to maintain the high ideals of the college.

OUR HONOR CODE

Our college life is founded in the personal integrity and honor of our students. This personal honor is not only a part of our academic work, but it is also a vital part of our personal and social relationships. The group is represented by the honor of each individual; therefore the honor of the group can be no higher than that of the personal honor of its members.

In addition, our honor is the basis of success not only in our Student Government, but is also essential if we are to become the responsible citizens for which our college life is preparing us.

Believing these things, we as students pledge ourselves to uphold the ideals and standards of ourselves and our college, in our conduct as students of this Christian College.

INFRINGEMENTS OF THE HONOR CODE

The Student Council believes the following to be serious offenses, and reserves the right, in consultation with the Co-operative Committee, to inflict penalties of campus, probation, suspension, or expulsion:

1. Lying (Deliberate deception)
2. Cheating of any kind in academic work
3. Stealing
4. Drinking of alcoholic beverages
5. Involving another student in infringement of the Honor Code
6. Falsification of sign-out information
7. Violation of smoking rules

At Flora Macdonald our social, dormitory, and academic life operates on the basis of the Honor Code. Infringements of the Honor Code will be considered from this standpoint. If at any time during the session a student is found to be lowering either the intellectual or moral tone of the college, she may be punished or asked to withdraw, even though there be no rule in existence covering the circumstances of the exact case.

One of the greatest joys at Flora Macdonald is to get to know one another in the light of fellowship and prayer. Once a week groups meet together for a period of meditation and prayer. Each member of the Student Body who wishes to belongs to a group. The treasured opportunity of a Prayer Band Leader is to help each member of her small group realize the privilege that is hers.

The following girls will lead Prayer Bands this year:

Quiet Hour

“Satisfy us in the morning with Thy steadfast love, that we may rejoice and be glad all our days.”

A few minutes spent in quiet with God each morning sets the tone for the rest of the day. Because this need has been recognized at Flora Macdonald, there has been provided in the schedule each morning, a period of ten minutes called the Quiet Hour, which can be a fellowship period with God. The longer the stay in college the more complex one's life will become. This period of meditation will give added strength to accomplish tasks.

Hymn Sing

Our Sabbath worship is made even more meaningful each Sunday night as we gather around the Rotunda for our Sunday night Hymn Sing. For those who listen or for those who sing this time holds a significant place in our day of rest and worship. Our theme hymn is frequently used at this sing.

Meditation

Immediately following Hymn Sing, the auditorium is set aside as a place of meditation. Watkins Hall and the Prayer Chapel are also used for meditations. Here, inspired by a worship center, we can be alone with God and ask His continued guidance in our lives through the coming week.

Vespers

One evening every two weeks Vesper services are held at a designated time and place. This is a short period of prayer, hymns, and meditation. We are renewed in body and mind, as we pause before our study begins to unite again in worshipping our Creator.

Membership in the F. M. C. A.

"Acknowledging Jesus Christ, the only Son of God, as Lord and Saviour of your life, you want to co-operate with others who have yielded their lives to Him."

The F.M.C.A. brings us into a closer fellowship with fellow students and the faculty, who are associated members, and presents to us the deeper, truer meaning of Christianity. It will afford us good training for lives of service to the Master.

Churches

The pastors and congregations of the Presbyterian, Methodist, Baptist, and Episcopal Churches extend to each student a cordial welcome. Each Church has a full program of worship and activities in which the students are urged to participate.

Each Sunday evening the college students are invited to the Youth Meetings in the local Churches. In the Presbyterian Church there is the Westminster Fellowship; in the Methodist, the Methodist Student Movement; in the Baptist, the Baptist Student Union.

The International Relations Club of Flora Macdonald College is one of the outstanding organizations of the Campus. Affiliated with the Carnegie Foundation for International Peace, the club meets bi-monthly to discuss in an open forum international problems. Through active participation and interest, the I.R.C. serves to promote an understanding of these problems, so that young people can prepare to take their places in and do their share in the world's business.

SUGGESTIONS

1. Read the College Catalogue carefully; bring it to College with you, and keep it for reference.
2. Be sure to have your name plainly written on your baggage.
3. Look for the girls in white dresses who will meet you at the bus station or at the college.
4. The first thing to do upon arrival at the college is to go to the Dean of Students and register and to get the number of your room. (Students are asked not to come on Sunday unless absolutely necessary.)
5. Take any seat in the dining hall for the first few days.
6. ① If possible, bring towel, sheet, and pillow case in your suitcase, as your trunk may not arrive when you do.
7. Look in the Orientation booklet (the one with the plaid cover) for information concerning closet curtains and window curtains.
8. ② To make your room more attractive, bring dresser scarfs, table covers, desk lamp, bed lamp, and a rug or so. These articles are not furnished by the college. There is one pillow for each bed which is 19 x 27 inches.
9. It would be wise to include in your wardrobe a white dress, because there are many occasions when one is needed.
10. There are electric irons available on all halls.

Laundry

Note:

Former students: Check as to the clarity of your laundry mark.

Transfers: Check upon arrival to see if you can use your old numbers.

New students: Laundry numbers will be assigned after your arrival at the College. Do not write for laundry numbers during the summer. It is impossible to supply them.

Laundry is done by the college on the campus. A student may put as many pieces as necessary in the laundry, but she must limit them to a reasonable number. At college you will find a list of articles which may be sent to the laundry. There are also electric washing machines in the dormitory for student use.

Where to mark your clothes—

1. Underneath neck band for dresses, blouses, pajama tops, house coats, and T shirts.
2. Underneath band of skirts, shorts, and pajama pants.
3. Mark in the corner of sheets, spreads, towels. (Contour sheets—mark on top corner). Pillow cases are to be marked underneath at seam.
